

Pine Island

STATE  PARK

Located on the shores of Lake Murray, Pine Island State Park offers visitors a relaxing escape just minutes from Irmo in Lexington County. Opened to the public in fall 2025 as South Carolina's 49th state park, this 27-acre park features picnicking, walking and biking paths, a natural swimming beach, shoreline fishing and a marina. Pine Island offers sweeping views of Lake Murray and is also a prime location for wildlife viewing, with frequent sightings of great blue herons and bald eagles. The park is home to Sunset Hall, a picturesque event facility currently under renovation, and offers scheduled programs throughout the year.
